Interested in joining the Feed the Future team? On this page, you'll find information on recent job openings at U.S. Government departments and agencies that collaborate on the Feed the Future initiative. We are currently hiring for positions that will support implementation of the new U.S. Government Global Food Security Strategy, which was submitted to Congress in 2016 as required by the Global Food Security Act. We will update this page with more opportunities as they arise.

For details and application instructions, please check out the links below.

Below are job opportunities with the U.S. Agency for International Development's Bureau for Food Security (BFS), which leads the Feed the Future initiative in collaboration with 10 other U.S. Government agencies and departments. BFS coordinates these partners and leads implementation of the U.S. Government's Global Food Security Strategy.

Foreign Service Limited Positions with USAID

These are term-limited positions (for up to 5 years, with possibility of extension) to work on implementation of the U.S. Government's Global Food Security Strategy in USAID's Bureau for Food Security (BFS). Please note that only U.S. citizens are eligible to apply for FSL positions.

Program Officer (Senior Advisor), FSL-02

The Senior Advisor for USAID's Bureau for Food Security will advise the Assistant to the Administrator and senior leadership, including the Chief Scientist and three Deputy Assistant Administrators. The incumbent in the position will oversee the implementation of the U.S. Government Global Food Security Strategy as submitted to Congress on September 30, 2016, which will include overseeing the entirety of its roll-out and implementation across USAID, our Missions, the interagency, and with our private and public sector stakeholders. The Senior Advisor will report to the Assistant to the Administrator, and supervise support staff, including the Bureau's Special Assistant.
